

ecojudaism

OUR FAITH IN THE PLANET

Kabbalah and Ecology: God's Image in the More-Than-Human World by David Mevorach Seidenberg

EcoJudaism Overview

This profound and scholarly work by neo-hasidic thinker Rabbi David Seidenberg explores the meaning of God's image in creation and challenges the dominant anthropocentric paradigm. He shows how in classical rabbinic thinking and Kabbalah it is far from the truth that God's image refers solely to humans. This a deep theological exploration of our relationship with animals, the earth itself and the whole of creation, expands the horizons of our imagination and spirit. – Rabbi Jonathan Wittenberg

For a more extensive review, click here.