

ecojudaism
OUR FAITH IN THE PLANET

Monitoring air pollution in your area and campaigning

Air pollution is a serious concern for all of us.

At Defra, you can find out current levels of pollution in your area here.

Scroll down to “Air pollution forecast by local area” and input your postcode.

Forecast provided by the Met Office

Health advice

What is the Daily Air Quality Index?

Air pollution alerts

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Low Moderate High Very High

Air pollution forecast by local area
Enter your location here or click here to get my current location

Air quality and emissions statistics

Clean Air Strategy
Clean Air Strategy 2019

Information
Watch our short videos to find out how you can help.

- Air pollution can affect anyone
- Burning solid fuel homes

Additionally, individuals can calculate their own impact with Clean Air Hub here.

One step you could take is to contact your local representative about your air pollution concerns and ask them to do more to reduce the level of air pollution in your area. You can find out who your local representative is here. You can also encourage members in your community to do the same.

Action for Clean Air have provided a guide to campaigning against Air Pollution that includes a template letter to your local MP.